(By Associated Press.

WHITBY, England, via London, Oct. 30—The loss of life on the British hospital ship Rohilla, which crashed on the rocks of the Yorkshire coast near here before dawn today, was a matter of doubt tonight. The vessel is a total wreck, having broken in two while life savers on share were shooting lines and trying vailly to make ing lines and trying vainly to make Bearing physicians, nurses and hospital supplies, the Rohilla was on her way to a Belgian or French port when driven ashore. It is understood all women on board were saved, including a survivor of the Titanic disaster. The fate of the physicians is uncertain as is that of the captain and crew. The total number of people on board is estimated at 200.

When the striken vessel broke eight

When the striken vessel broke eight men could be seen climbing to a piece of wreckage from the after part of the ship and it is assumed that they were swept to their death in the boiling sea. Fourteen bodies had been washed ashore this evening.

Rain was falling in torrents, a gale was blowing and the seas were mountainous when the vessel hit the rocks. Diatress rockets immediately fiared above the Robilla attracting the coast guards, but as the sea continued violent it was impossible to launch only two boats from ashore. These boats brought back all the peaple they could

Most of the ship's boats were crushed in attempts to launch them and only one got away, bearing a handful of survivors. Even these had to be dragged up the beach, as the boat capsized in the breakers.

News Letter From Belton

The pupils of the High School gave a Halloween party at the school buildling on Friday evening. The auditorium was decorated with witches, black cats, bats, etc. The front door was hidden by a white curtain covered with all of these uncanny Hallo'een emblems and all of the guests were draped in sheets and masks. They were met back of this curtain by a ghost who conducted them, one at a time, through the long halls, dimly lighted by jack o' lanterns, to the auditorium, lighten in the same wierd way with the addition of a salt and alcohol light making the effect very fantastic. Apples were suspended over the stage, others were merrily babbing around in water and the ghosts, after unmasking, were told to try to capture these with their teeth. In a crazy corner, amid lanterns of manyfancy patterns, a fortune teller was ensconsed. Miss, Bessie Wilson told the fortunes of the guests in a bright and original way and all were delighted with their futures, as she read them from their palms. from their palms.

The souvenirs of this luppy occasion were little cats cut out of red card board, outlined in black and tied with black ribbons.
